Gladiator Bastards is the first mobile game from the Finnish game company Frak. Gladiator Bastards has been in production two years now. Within that period have basically learned everything about making games the hard way.

At the time of this writing the game is available via Google Play store as in beta version. Instructions and additional information is available in Gladiator Bastards page! ios version will soon follow. The game includes ingame purchases which allow players to buy additional characters. Characters can also be purchased with virtual currency that is obtained by gaining victories in the game.

The target audience for Gladiator Bastards lies within more grown up audiences and it is intended but not limited for the gamers who appreciate the tournament fighting game arcade nostalgia of 1980's and 1990's. Our game is rated PEGI 16 because of the violence so it is not recommended for toddlers!

This ain't no Angry Birds!
